

‘The Ideal Setting for Writing the Ideal Ending’

By Jonathan Lowe

In this article, we take a look at some of the finest properties we have to offer, all promising to provide the perfect environment for storytelling, enabling you to orchestrate the idyllic ending your novel deserves.

Our first property is catered towards a true romantic storyteller. Are you struggling to find that heart-wrenching ending that’s certain to leave your readers distraught with emotion? Are you running out of creative inspiration? Are you unable to find the perfect atmosphere for your inventive genius to roam freely? The ‘House of Hearts’ is our number one property of choice for romantic writers who find themselves in this scenario. Without her visit to the House of Hearts, Lavyrle Spencer insists Morning Glory would be “nothing but an abandoned dream”. She credits the acres of woodland surrounding the estate, where she spent most of her days, for the inspiration she found to finish her critically acclaimed love story. This lavish property also boasts a majestic ballroom, where many a banquet has been held, hosting a range of celebrities from movie stars to royals. This exquisite section of the castle is available for use as part of an additional package, including unrestricted access to the stables and horses, as well as around the clock assistance from our servants. This location promises not to disappoint and is the solution you've longed for to finish your work of art.

Fear not if you'd rather see Earth invaded by Cyborgs than spend your days in a romantic castle riding a horse through the decorated landscape surrounding the estate; we want you to know we haven't forgotten you! For those who are more accustomed to the realm of alien invasions and space exploration, we present to you 'Ground Control', a space to let your imagination run wild. You might be pleased to know that this property is in fact hermetically sealed, so you needn't worry about any gas attack from Zog's army, we promise you're safe to write in peace! We know just how frustrating it is having to interrupt your brainstorming of extra-terrestrial invasions to feed yourself or sort your laundry, so that's why we've got Alfie, a robot butler, for all that, and yes, he's included as part of the deal! On the other hand, if you want to get your hands on the newest model of the intergalactic hovercar, you'll need to upgrade to our platinum rental package, at a slight premium. Frank Herbert had nothing but kind words to say about Ground Control, stating without the help of Alfie, Doon would be yet another failed project, explaining that the property was the final motivation he needed to wrap up the bestselling novel. If Frank's experience is anything to go by, you'll have the perfect ending for that zombie apocalypse written in no time in the futuristic sci-fi haven of Ground Control.

At this point, you might be under the impression that all of our homes on offer are either spaceships or castles, but I assure you, this is not the case! If you're merely looking for a modest, simple property, with all the essentials and none of the extravagancies, our one-story suburban option is ideal for you. For all you realist novelists out there, we hear you, and we've got the perfect home to help you write that intriguing ending to your fiction novel. It was from our beautifully plain detached home, located in the suburbs of Dublin, that John Le Carré found the inspiration for the jaw-dropping ending of Silverview. He appreciated the simple touches like the 24/7 central heating and the fully equipped kitchen, containing a state of the art fridge, oven and, for an additional fee, a filtered water tap. A passion of Le Carré is sportscars, and the 100m² garage was ample room for his two beloved Ferraris. For any writer who is struggling to draft the end of their realist fiction novel, I recommend this simplistic property, free of distractions and full of inspiration.

Last but not least, we have the ‘Dungeon of Death,’ for all the horror writers who simply aren’t content with their everyday surroundings, and need that experience of death and despair to tie together their horror masterpiece. The sinister neighbours you may or may not wish to be acquainted with, are sure to leave you in a state of terror as you lie in your bed, picturing them seated in that wooden rocking chair, whispering your name. This property is suited only for the bravest of the brave, with the main house surrounded by a graveyard of abandoned orphans, believed to haunt the house at night. Unfortunately, due to the haunted reputation of this home, we have been unable to find an electrician willing to fix the faulty power. We advise being prepared for possible blackouts at any time. Whilst this property may seem horrifying to most of you, we know the horror writers reading this will be itching at the opportunity to finish their horror stories in ‘the most petrifying home on this planet,’ according to Stephen King, who finished the plot of IT in the Dungeon of Death. We do provide an emergency rescue option, but it is reserved for our gold rental package holders only. If you have yet to find the perfect way for your killer clown to be brutally murdered, look no further than the Dungeon of Death for help.

And that concludes our properties on offer this week. We hope that the romantic ‘House of Hearts’, the extra-terrestrial like ‘Ground Control’, our suburban house or the frightening ‘Dungeon of Death’ were to your liking. As writers, we understand the struggle of trying to compose that perfect, stomach-clenching ending, that leaves readers emotionally attached. We believe that our properties are the best solution to this conundrum. If you’d like to enquire about one of these properties, give us a call at +35301355569, and we’d be more than thrilled to help. For a wider range of properties, please reach out to one of our dedicated team members at Rentals for Writers where we’ll find the perfect property, suited just to your needs.
